

Information om Food Waste Sorting

The City of Stockholm has implemented mandatory collection of food waste since January 1, 2023. Our condo union, along with neighbouring unions, have been granted exemptions because the City of Stockholm has had difficulties providing all food waste bins in time. However, they have now arrived, and four food waste bins are now located in the garbage room.

Each household shall receive a starter package consisting of a holder, a sink strainer, and food waste bags. These have been available for some time in the stairwell entrances at Fridhemsplan 25 and Fridhemsplan 29.

Food waste should be sorted separately from other household waste. This means that leftovers, fruit and vegetable peels, eggshells, coffee grounds, tea leaves, and similar organic waste should be placed in specific food waste bags and disposed of in the food waste bins.

Food waste bags will be continuously ordered by one of the neighbouring condo unions and placed in the garbage room.

The result of the food waste treatment can be used for various purposes. The compost can be used as a soil conditioner in gardens and green spaces. The biogas can be used as fuel for vehicles or to produce electricity and heat.
